THOSE BUSY MEDICS

Since the first of the “Quacks” quacked the continuous and eternal wail of the Medical Students has rent the air. They’re so very, very busy that they really can’t do anything at all—in fact exactly nothing that they don’t entirely want to.

Why we know of one Medic who has an authentic record of not less than three proposals to his credit per week and an estimated record of two and five-eighths elopements per month.

And that reminds us of one particularly conscientious Medic. He simply had to leave us at nine so that he could go home and study and all might have taken that in but that we met him about a half hour later on the way to the Movies and you can bank on it that he wasn’t alone. Not little Billy Ballinger.

By actual census, too, we have it that there are more flivvers and other varieties of perambulators per registered student in the Medical School than in all the rest. And they’re so busy, too!

And it doesn’t take more than an unfortunate young lady’s ankle to make them quite restless. In fact they have been reported to have quit classes in a body to drape themselves out of the windows of the Medical Building and flirt with the owner of the particular ankle referred to. And, to quote the young lady in a rather liberal fashion—“They’re better at flirtin’ than I thought.”

Yes—they’re busy—but at what we don’t know other than the above. We are certain it isn’t studies.

BUNNY TALES

Whispers from The Rabbit Hole

"We know a Rabbit Hole, just across the way,
Where they serve "Dogs" and tea, most all the day."

The Mecca of the hungry and the fount of all gossip—The Rabbit Hole.

There was a time when Louie Siebold enjoyed a charge account with the proprietors of the Tea Parlor 'till he enlarged his appetite and the proprietress developed fears as to the extent of his pocket book. Now Louie pays, that is when he doesn't lunch with the Chi-Oh's.

Profs as well as pupils fall before its lure.

Prof. Bibb always partakes of a cup of coffee before commencing his evening lectures. You see he wants to be sure that he, at least, remains awake thru them.

"Pop" Holmes attends just so as to be the center of a group of giggling Co-Eds.

Prof. Michaelson refuses to enter—in fact he reconnoiters carefully before trusting himself to go in—and then only if there is some others from the faculty present. He's no doubt heard that the Co-Eds will try to vamp him if he goes in alone.

Profs. Doyle and Croissant aren't so backward, tho. They sometimes go in without extra faculty support.

Sec'y Kayser was once a patron—before he fell by the wayside—but now no more. He has been sentenced to Quigley's for refreshment.

The appetising odors which arise about 11:30 A.M. usually prove too much to be resisted by the members of the Philosophy class just above. Desertions are reported to be numerous.

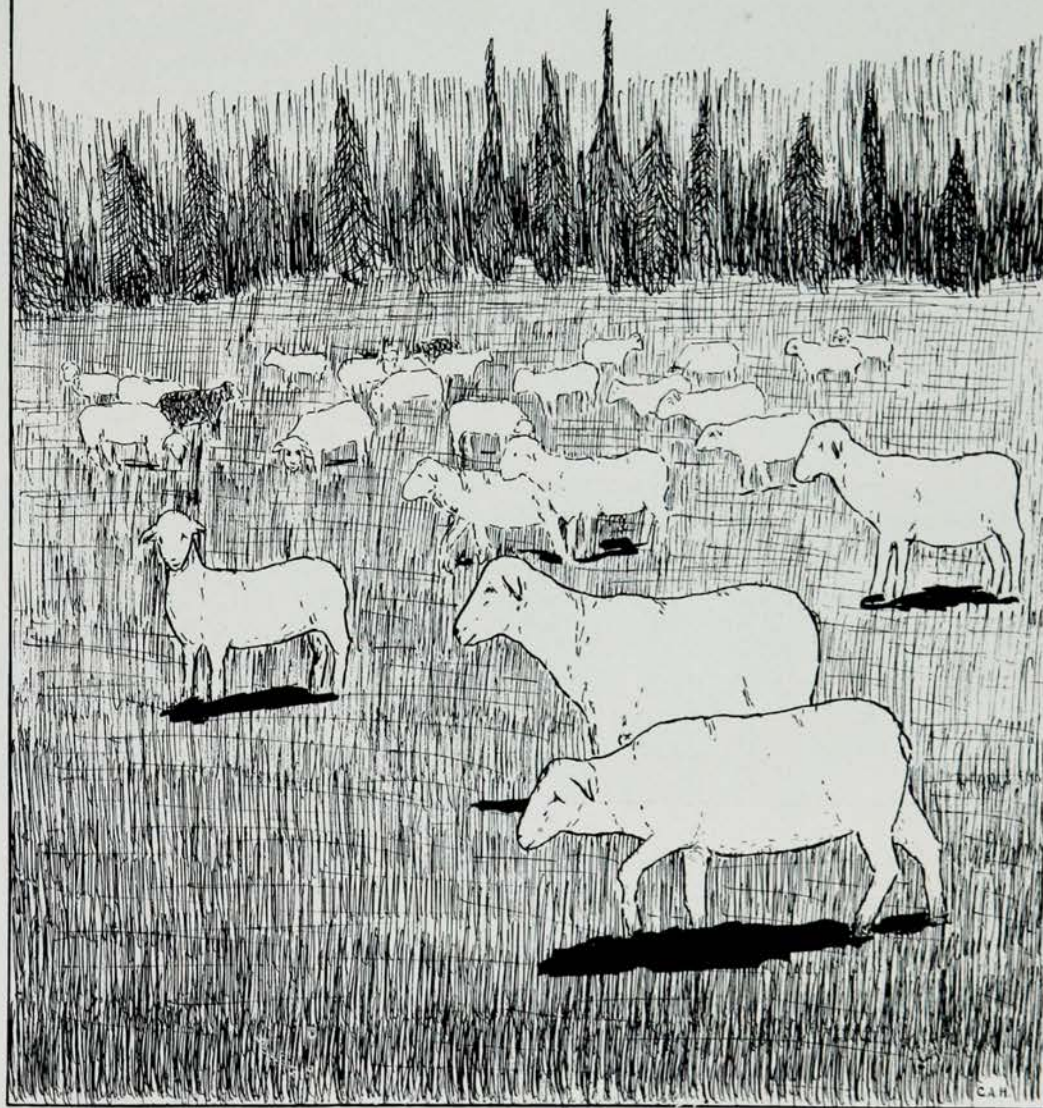

Among other specialties the R. H. offers palmistry. Proprietress Hauxhurst not infrequently displays her talents in this line tho not for palmistry only—we rather think she likes to hold hands. At least she doesn't seem to object very much.

Robit Pulliam once tried to get cut without paying—maybe he forgot—but anyway they didn't.

Try the Rabbit Hole—We believe that we can safely say that "If you eat there once you'll never eat anywhere else."

LAW SCHOOL ECHOES

For the information of those hitherto uninformed there is attached to this University a Department of questionable importance except politically known as the Law School.

Over there they have a little song which all the plodding politicians sing with hearty gusto—

“Your Frat is big, our’s is too—
You vote for us and we’ll vote for you!”

They all pull such as this—

A member of the Track Team to a Co-Ed: “You ought to come out to the track meet sometime. I’m sure all the fellows will run.”

Is the dope they have handed them boring? Well—Popular Prof. Updegraf remarked to his unappreciative audience—“Now look here. I don’t mind your looking at your watches but when you put them to your ear I object.”

And then, too, they sometimes let somebody suffer (?) for two or three insist that they must neglect their social obligations to preserve (Pickle) their scholastic records.

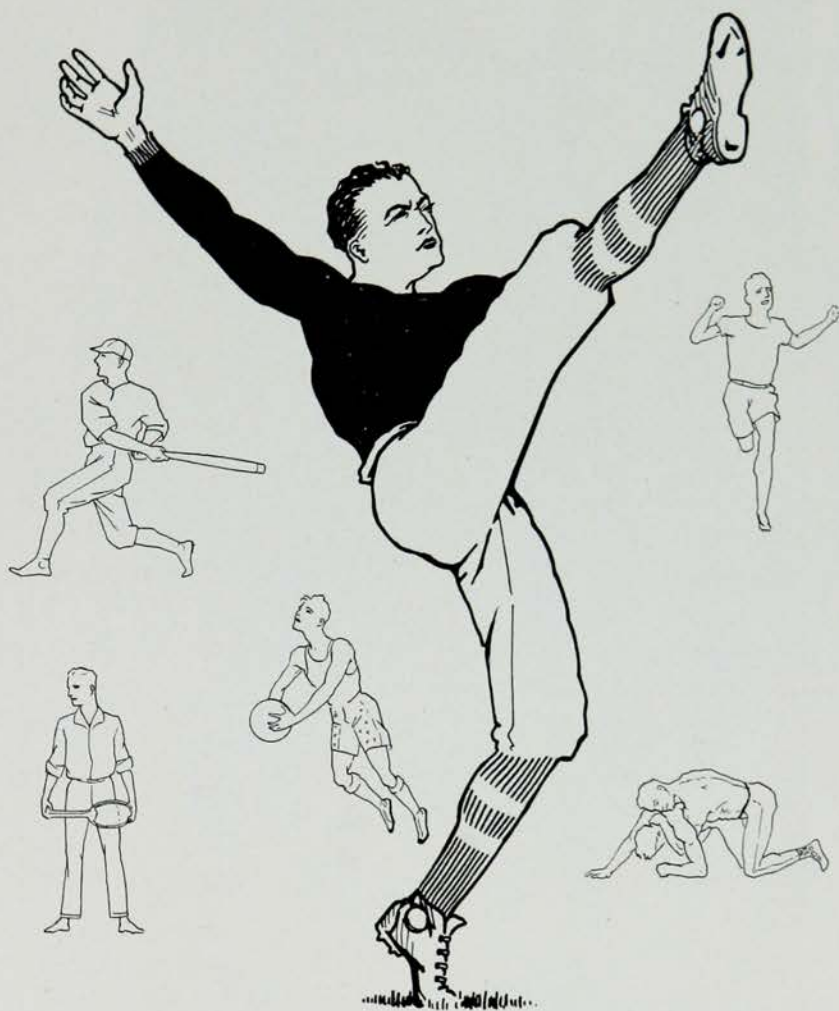

They are all interested in cases—some kinds of cases much more than others.

Some of the University’s finest specimens flourish in that Department—they’ll tell you so themselves.

After the Carnival quite a few of the inmates of this institution thought the masquerade was still to continue—They wore shiny, new straw hats two weeks before the season opened.

Once a feller goes into this realm of the condemned-to-sometimes-look-a-book-in-the-face he acquires their stamp. Don’t look for it—it shows all over them.

FOOTBALL 1922

Defeating Catholic University, Gallaudet College and scoring an earned touchdown against Georgetown are the accomplishments that made the 1922 football season a success. These achievements came through great effort on the part of the entire squad under many difficult and trying circumstances. The season, while marked with many reverses, was the most successful the University has enjoyed for several years.

Coach William A. Quigley, former University of Pennsylvania star, was again in charge of the instruction and direction of the squad. The return of few veterans, shortness and irregularity of practice hours due to the fact that the majority of the squad worked, and the inconvenience of the dressing quarters were a few of the obstacles that "Solemn Bill" had to overcome in order to turn out a team. season was the entire squad consequently making it plays and teamwork. The first call for candidates was made on September ten, about twenty men reporting for the initial workout. The first "casualty" of the football season occurred, when Nobel Johnson, who had been elected Manager by the Student Council, the previous Spring, was unable to return to the University because of serious illness suffered during the Summer. His place was taken by Robert H. McNeil.

Twenty days of sweating, running, tackling, passing, punting, and "skull" drill saw the squad journeying to Charlottesville, Virginia to pry open the 1922 season with the University of Virginia. The Quigleyites made an excellent showing against the more experienced and heavier Orange and Blue. During the early part of the first quarter both fought on even terms. A bad pass from center gave the Virginians the ball in striking distance of the goal, and resulted in their first touchdown.

Shortly before the second quarter ended the Buff and Blue held Virginia for four downs on the one foot line only to be scored upon when Altrup fumbled the ball in attempting to punt out. Virginia scored three touchdowns in the second half due in large part to greenness of the Hatchetites.

The 34-0 defeat was the least loss that the Buff and Blue suffered that day as little "Willie" Thomas, the 118 pound quarterback broke his leg while running back a punt shortly after the second half began.

The biggest upset of the season occurred on the seventh of October when Johns Hopkins in the game played at Baltimore completely outclassed the Hatchetites much to the surprise of everyone. The only redeeming feature of the entire game was "Felix" Altrup's sixty yard run for a touchdown after recovering a fumble. The Black and Blue Boys (and ites look worse than black and blue by made the Hatchet- trouncing them 40-6.

On the following Saturday the St. John Cadets were met in Annapolis. In the first half the Hatchetites evidently day-dreamed about the big Georgia Tech-Navy game to be played in the afternoon, for when the half ended they found that the Johnnies had run up a 20-0 score on them. Snapping out of it in the second half the Quigleyites had complete command of the situation scoring two touchdowns while by a bad break were deprived of a third touchdown. A forty yard pass from Murphy to Ptak, accounted for one touchdown, while the other resulted from Wells scoring from a fumble recovered in mid-field. However, the rally was too late and the Cadets marched off with the spoils, 27-14.

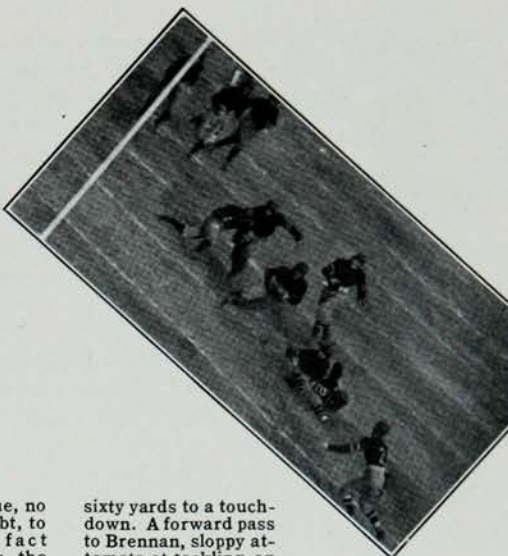

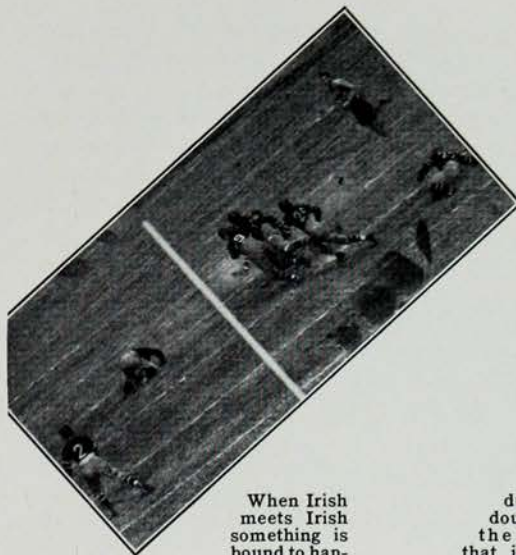

Traveling one whole night through the state of Pennsylvania to Wellsburg in the "wilds" of West Virginia was not the best kind of preparation for a contest against the powerful Bethany College aggregation. The Bison, with an end run that had a five man interference, swept the field for a 52-0 win.

Jerry Murphy's forty-two yard drop-kick proved the margin of victory over Gallaudet College as the Hatchetites nosed out the Mutes, 9-6. G. W.'s touchdown came as a result of a long pass from Murphy to Ptak. Gallaudet's score came through the use of a fake forward pass, a blocked kick and a long end run. Neither team gathered the extra point on attempted drop-kicks, leaving the score deadlocked at six all when the half ended. For a time it looked like history of the previous year would repeat itself and the game end a tie. However, Jerry Murphy with his perfect drop-kick saved the day for the Hatchetites and the 1921 tie was avenged.

Two long years of defeat by Catholic University were wiped out in one short hour of victory for George Washington University, Armistice Day,

When Irish meets Irish something is bound to happen, especially if the meeting takes place on the Gridiron. A meeting of this kind took place on Armistice Day when Catholic University and George Washington staged their annual setto. The Hatchettes triumphed 14-7 due, no doubt, to the fact that in the line-up were such good Irish names as Daily, O'keefe, Murphy, Rafferty, Curran, Griffin, Corbin, and Mulligan. With the game minute only a old Brennan, Red and Black, attempting an end run was tackled so hard by Jimmy Ptak that he dropped the ball. O'keefe snatched up the leather and dashed sixty yards to a touchdown. A forward pass to Brennan, sloppy attempts at tackling on the part of the Buff & Blue backs allowed him to yards U.'s only er. Ptak ering the ball behind C. U.'s goalline after an attempted kick being fumbled, gave us the decision.

November 11, when the Hatchetites swept the Brooklanders off their feet 14-7. With a sweeping offense, a team, taking advantage of all their opponents' mistakes, made a gala day for the Buff and Blue.

The Quigleyites were primed for this game and played on their toes every minute of the contest, consequently getting many of the breaks occasioned by the mistakes of the Red and Black players. In other words they played smart football. It was a great game from whistle to whistle as each team realized that upon the outcome of this game depended the success or failure of the entire season.

Besides the two touchdowns scored by O'Keefe and Ptak Murphy missed by a narrow margin a drop-kick from a difficult angle on the forty yard mark. Corbin, Mulligan and Ptak played the best defensive games, while O'Keefe and Murphy shone on the offense.

Using a modern open running attack and overhead offensive, Virginia's Flying Squadron, the V. M. I. Cadets, went through the Hatchetites defense for a 45-0 victory in the contest played at the Central Stadium, November 18.

Unable to gain through the Buff and Blue line with any marked success, the Cadets opened a bag of trick passes which completely baffled the Quigleyites.

For the first time since the Hatchetites have met the Hilltoppers on the gridiron, a team representing the Buff and Blue scored an earned touchdown against the wearers of the Blue and Gray in the Thanksgiving Day contest, November 30. By using an entire new team in the last quarter against the wornout Quigleyites, the Georgetown Tank Corps was able to run up a 46-6 score.

Of course, teams which have represented the University in former years have scored touchdowns against Georgetown but they all were results of fumbles. It remained to the 1922 team to have the honor of scoring an earned touchdown. This was accomplished when Ptak received a forty yard pass from Murphy putting the ball on the Hilltoppers five yard line. O'Keefe plunged for one yard and then Murphy threw a short pass to Laux for what appeared to be a touchdown, but he still had six inches to go. On the next play, Laux dived over the line for the score. Murphy's drop-kick for the extra point missed the cross bar by a narrow margin.

The Hilltoppers were only able to score a touchdown in each of the first two periods, the count standing 13-0 at the end of the half.

Another six points was added during the third period shortly before George Washington counted its touchdown, making the count read 19-6. At the beginning of the fourth era Coach Exendine substituted an entire fresh team, which ran up 27 points against the tired Quigleyites.

While the season was not a huge success from the standpoint of games won and lost it had its compensations and the outlook for the coming year is hopeful. One of the most hopeful signs of the future on the gridiron is the greater number of the day time students who are taking an interest and are coming out for football. When the time comes that a majority of the men are day students then success on the gridiron will be assured.

The men who were awarded letters were V. James Ptak, captain, Herbert O. Allen, F. W. Altrup, George G. Buchheister, Francis W. Clements, Bartley H. Corbin, Raymond H. Curran, John R. Daily, Dale D. Fisher, Laurence D. Griffin, Guy L. Hottel, Alphonse C. F. Kenouski, David N. Laux, Charles S. Mulligan, Jeremiah V. Murphy, Charles J. O'Keefe, Leo J. Rafferty, David H. Strother, William Thomas, Ralph W. Wallace, John W. Wells, and Robert H. McNeil, manager. An honorary letter was awarded to William A. Quigley in recognition of his services as coach.

Numerals were awarded to Francis W. Brown, John Eisinger, Edward E. Horany, William P. Hunt, Lawrence R. Leeby, Homer E. Pryor, Robert J. Walsh, and D. Milton Ladd, assistant manager and manager-elect for the season of 1923.

Charles S. Mulligan was elected captain for the 1923 Hatchetite gridiron warriors. Mulligan has played at guard during the 1920, 1921 and 1922 campaigns. He is a capable guard, is a conscientious worker and has plenty of the old fighting spirit. Under his leadership great results may be expected. Charlie is a medical student, an indication that he has plenty of ambition, to study medicine and excel in football at the same time.

D. Milton Ladd, assistant manager of the 1922 season, was elected manager for the 1923 squad.

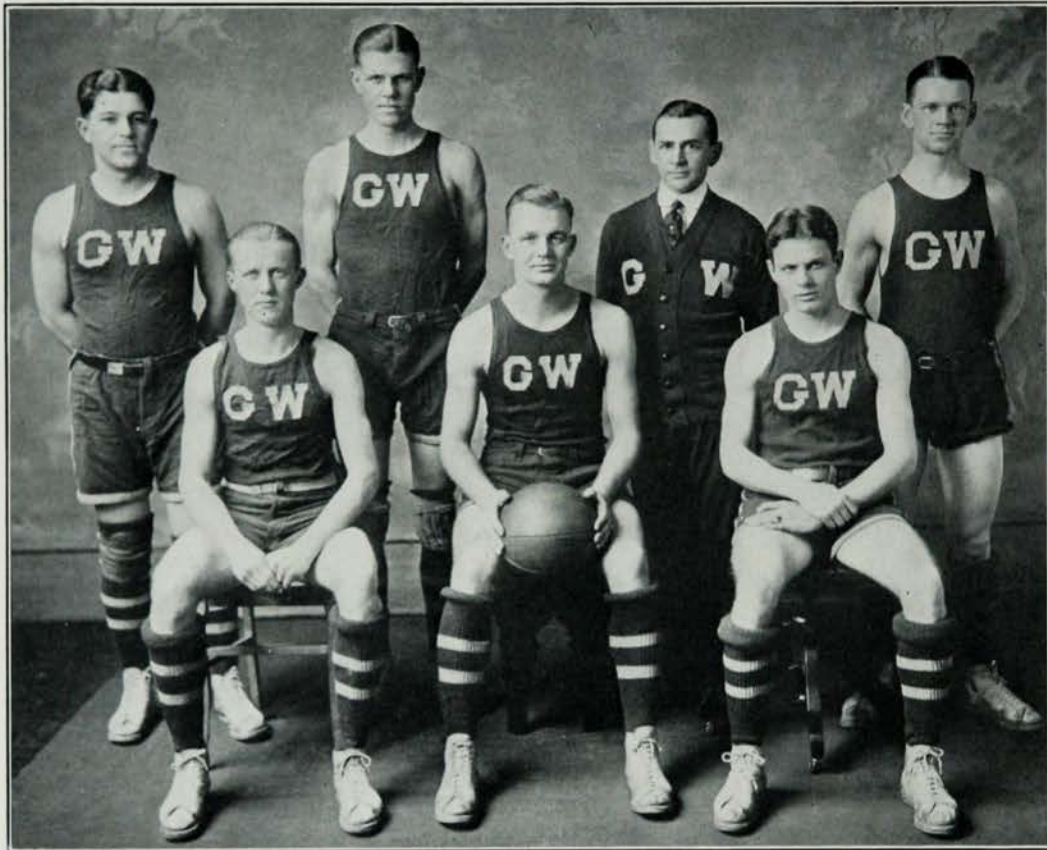

William A. Quigley will again be coach. Under this competent leadership and with the schedule that has been arranged the team should make an excellent showing. The schedule that has been made is as follows:

September 29—GEORGETOWN at home.
 October 6—WESTERN MARYLAND at Westminster.
 October 13—JUNIATA COLLEGE at Huntingdon.
 October 20—DREXEL COLLEGE at home.

BASKETBALL

From every standpoint, except the mere winning of games, basketball at George Washington University was a marked success during the season of 1923. The University was represented by a very strong team, which made extremely creditable showing against some of the formidable teams of the country, many of them champions of their respective localities.

Fordham University, a member of the "Big Six" was brought to Washington to play our men, prior to their playing the Navy for the championship. For the first time in many, many years the G. W. teams invaded southern territory, playing the strongest teams wherever they went, and the University may well be proud of the showing and sportsmanship exhibited by the team. They were men to be reckoned with by the best of teams.

The players are to be commended for their spirit and stick-to-itiveness. Every possible obstacle and handicap was thrown in their way. Outside courts had to be obtained, at great cost, in which to play our games and to practice. These could only be obtained at odd days and hours, and there were weeks when the team had no practice at all. The team can bear witness to the necessity of a Compulsory Tax and an adequate gymnasium. The grippe epidemic cost us some of our best players at most crucial moments. Injuries added to our troubles. And in the midst of the season, Captain Daily was withdrawn from the team to act as assistant coach. Daily graduated at the Midyear Convocation. During the trip, it became necessary to use one or two Freshman players.

Daily played his usual "heady" game at guard, and together with "Patsy" Goldstein could be depended upon to hold the opponents to low scores. "Goody" Gosnell, who has been elected captain of next year's team, played a consistent game at forward, as did his mate "Bailee" Springston until he was forced from the game by a broken wrist. However, the place was ably filled by "Zeke" Klopsch, who, with Gosnell, could be counted upon for our scoring both from the field and the foul line. Francis Brown was the pivot man in every game but one, which was caused by sickness on the trip. "Babe" Hyde was utility man and was dependable whenever called upon, which was nearly every game. Great credit was given by the Council to the successful management of the team and finances by Manager "Ed" Bettelheim. The assistant managers were Lester Johnson and William Hipkins.

Commendation is also given to the following men who came out and played in many of the games and assisted materially: Joseph Rutley, Sam Soloman, Everett Held, Lionel Beeton, John Kent, and Louis Joynes.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Freshman basketball was revived at George Washington University during the past year with a splendid team. The "Frosh" won seven victories out of a possible ten, and it is believed that there will be plenty of material for next year's Varsity Team from among the 1926 players.

The outstanding men were Captain John Kent, Lionel Beeton and Louis Joynes.

The following is the result of the games played:—

G. W. . . . . 15—TECH . . . . .	3	G. W. . . . . 26—G. U. Frosh. . . . .	17

TRACK

With a very successful indoor season completed, more candidates out than ever before, and Thomas F. Probey as coach, it is with confidence that the followers of track are looking forward to the Varsity Track Squad's best year. "Tom" Probey, the new coach, is an old Western High School and Georgetown track man and is well qualified to develop a good squad.

The Indoor Relay team,—Peake, Laux, Grass, and Henderson easily won over the Gallaudet Team in the Georgetown Indoor Relay Carnival held at Convention Hall, February 21. G. H. Koster won second place in the 600 yard novice run in this meet, Carpenter of the U. S. Naval Academy taking first and Schott of Maryland University third. The Washington Post states: "To finish first, second, or third in the 600 has always been an acknowledged feat above the ordinary on a Convention Hall track. Hence, hats off to Carpenter, Koster, and Schott". Young also did well in this event, finishing fifth. Meigs won his heat in the 50 yard dash in five and two-fifths seconds, but lost out in the semi-finals.

At the Johns Hopkins Indoor Games, February 24, the same Relay Team was defeated by Maryland University, but ran well. Harmon, the Squad's best pole vaulter, injured his right arm while competing in the Georgetown Relay Carnival and was prevented from entering this meet. Harmon won second place in the Olympic pole vault trials at Fort Meyer, Virginia, in 1920, and is attempting to "come-back" this year. Captain "Bunn" Tolson was unable to participate in the indoor season meets due to an automobile accident, but has started outdoor training with the Squad.

The outdoor season will open with the American Legion Games, April 21, and every member of the Squad who has shown ability during training will be entered. The Penn Relay Carnival follows, April 27 and 28, in which a G. W. Relay Team, composed of the four fastest quartermilers, will participate, and probably Captain Tolson in the Pentathlon. The George Washington-Gallaudet Dual Meet follows on May 5, which it is believed George Washington will win. A plan has been suggested by Gallaudet to make this meet an annual event, a cup to be awarded the winner, which is to become the permanent possession of the school winning it three consecutive years. The S. A. I. A. A. Meet, to be held at Richmond, Virginia, May 11 and 12, marks the close of the season. This is the championship meet of this territory and members of the G. W. Squad who have shown exceptional ability in previous meets will compete.

The 1922-23 Track Squad is composed of Burgess, Falk, Fountain, Graeff, Grass, Harmon, Hartung, Henderson, Hilland Ketcham, Jackson, James, Johnson, Klopsch, Koster, Langston, Laux, Lewis, Loehler, Ludwig, Leonardo, Littman, Manson, Marble, McCoy, McNeil, Meigs, Meyers, Nichols, O'Keefe, Ottman, Palmer, Peake, Ronca, Captain Tolson, Manager Tracy, Whitsun, Young, Youngman.

MEN'S RIFLE TEAM

In years past, George Washington University has produced many rifle teams of championship caliber, yet unquestionably the finest of her teams is that of the present season. Last year's strong and experienced team, with but one exception, were all on hand when the squad was organized last fall, and they were strengthened by the addition of several sharpshooting Freshmen who were already comparative veterans at the sport. In October, soon after Team Captain Walter Stokes had returned from successfully defending his individual world's title in Europe, indoor practice was begun in a temporary range improvised in the basement of the Kappa Alpha House. After a few weeks' practice there, this range had to be abandoned because of difficulty in securing certain technical permits. Following a month's delay, permission to use the Marine Barracks range was secured, and practice was resumed.

The schedule for the season includes the N. R. A. Intercollegiate Championships, the Intercollegiate Association Championships, the Eastern Intercollegiate Championship at Philadelphia, dual matches with Georgetown, University of California, and one or two others, the Eastern Intercollegiate Military Championship at the Naval Academy, and the N. R. A. Outdoor Smallbore Championships. This is the hardest sort of schedule—one that will call forth the best efforts of G. W.'s veteran team, but we count on success.

The riflemen from among whom the teams will be selected are Capt. Stokes, H. C. Espey, J. M. Barry, G. R. Trimble, H. Everett, G. Anadale, B. Smith, W. E. Barkman, A. G. McNish, and T. Riley. These men constitute the strongest team squad that has ever represented the University.

WRESTLING

George Washington was represented in this sport by its usual conscientious team of hardworkers. Owing to the scarcity of material for the team its entrance into active competition with other schools was seriously curtailed. Meets with other Colleges were held and while the team did not make the showing wished for its efforts were commendable and the general interest displayed in Wrestling was considerably increased.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

SCHEDULE

December 16 . . . . .	Wilson Normal
January 3 . . . . .	Gallaudet
January 11 . . . . .	William and Mary
January 13 . . . . .	Swarthmore
February 2 . . . . .	Wilson Normal
February 10 . . . . .	Gallaudet
February 17 . . . . .	University of Pennsylvania
February 24 . . . . .	Temple University
March 3 . . . . .	William and Mary

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The varsity team had a good schedule for the 1922-23 season. It now confines its games to college teams, excepting only Wilson Normal, which has college standing.

Several of the games were played as double headers with the men's games. The girls exhibited some good basket ball, and in return got the benefit of the men's rooters. The most exciting game of the season was that played with the team from Temple University, Philadelphia. The Temple team is made up of girls trained for several years in their Physical Culture School. They have not lost a game since 1916! But for a while George Washington really had them scared. We tied the score twice in the first half. It was only in the last quarter when the superior physical condition of the visitors began to tell, that they were able to take the lead and finish with a victory of 39-23.

The only trip taken this year was a return game to William and Mary. In spite of several misfortunes to the team, the girls had a fine time and were treated royally.

The whole squad now has a complete buff and blue outfit. These uniforms belong to the University, and will be handed on to the squad next year.

Basket ball has become a major sport with the girls; the number turning out being about twice that of the 1921-22 season.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

Beatrice Woodford

"Bee" is Coach and the inspiring genius of the team. Her untiring energy and perseverance as well as her aquatic ability stamps her as one who well deserves the many honors she has won.

Catharine Hough

For perfection of technique in the water, Kitty has led the team for two consecutive seasons. She is a marvel for speed on the breast stroke and in life-saving she can tow her victim faster and surer than anyone else on the team.

The Girls Swimming team, working under the great disadvantage of not having an adequate pool in which to practice, has shown that the team is worthy of representing the University in the many meets in which they are entered, and in the near future we will be represented by a truly formidable team in this sport. In the meet with Trinity and the Capitol Athletic Club, the team showed great ability in competing with some of the leading swimmers in the South Atlantic Division and because of their showing in this meet they entered a team in the South Atlantic Championship Meet in Baltimore.

Margaret Hight

She is a speed swimmer and runs away from all the rest at every trial. She's got the pep that gives us the rep at G. W. U. for fast going.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

Asenath Johnson

One that shows pluck and perseverance in the face of difficulties. Her breast stroke is an honor to the team. The team likes Johnny—she'll do anything once.

In May the Team put on an exhibition for all the students of the University and won much praise for their efforts and skill in the different events.

We are truly proud of the showing made by the team and feel assured of a Championship Team in the near future.

Thelma Hord

Thru nerve and determination Thelma, tho only a freshman, has captured a place on the team as a fancy diver. She not only dives well, but captivates the judges by her engaging smile.

Louise Strother

Louise has represented her school in the plunge for distance. She has been a member of the G. W. U. swimming team for three years and in each instance won her position thru perseverance and ability.

Katherine Pfeiffer

Some day we hope to see Katherine break the record for the mile swim. In distance swimming she is unexcelled and her infectious enthusiasm has carried the team over many an obstacle.

ELEANOR BARROLL, Captain KATHERINE EDMONSTON, ELIZABETH FARIS.

GIRLS' RIFLE TEAM

During the past year girls' rifle teams have been organized in many colleges throughout the country, and unquestionably the sport is acquiring great popularity as a co-ed activity. A team has been organized at George Washington University, and, benefiting by the previous experience of several girls formerly members of local high school rifle teams, and by the coaching of Walter Stokes, it has made exceptional progress, taking a prominent place among the University's co-ed sports, and earning an outstanding position among teams from other universities.

On January twentieth, the team defeated Maryland University in the first shoulder-to-shoulder rifle match ever fired between college girls' teams, and it has the distinction of being the first girls' team to enter the intercollegiate national championship matches.

The schedule of competitions includes only the strongest and best known teams in the country, among which are Michigan, Northwestern, Cornell and Syracuse. Later in the season more dual matches will be added. The year's program will comprise about ten competitions, and will be so arranged that the G. W. team will be able to put forth strong claims to the girls' intercollegiate championship, if every match is won.

The members of the team are Captain Katharine Edmonston, Sophia Waldman, Edna Kilpatrick, Elizabeth Faris, Isabelle Buntten, Eleanor Barroll, and Nelda Umbeck. All but one of these girls will remain over for next year, assuring a strong team again next season.

GIRLS' TENNIS

In the Spring of 1922, when under the management of Mae Adelle Markley, a tournament was held which was won by Louise Whelchel with Elizabeth E. Chickering as runner-up. There were no interscholastic matches.

Janet E. Elliott became manager in the fall of 1922. This year the annual tournament was held in the fall instead of in the spring. Elizabeth Chickering won with Margaret Brewer as runner-up. A silver cup presented by the Columbian Women is the trophy presented each year to the winner of the tournament.

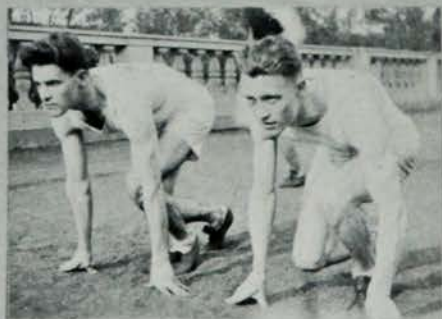

There will be no tournament in the Spring of 1923 but the team will play three schools—National Park, Gallaudet College and the Fredericksburg Normal School. It is anticipated that the results of the competitions will be most satisfactory as the team contains a number of exceptional players.

COUNCIL FIXES DATE FOR MAY CARNIVAL

Thursday, May 3, Time of Big Festival—Earle Manson in Charge.

O. K. HONOR CONSTITUTION

Many Resolutions Made Over Old Document—To Elect Pub. Leader Next.

Thursday, May 3rd, was dedicated to the task of holding the big May Carnival at the Student Council meeting, March 23. Earle Manson was placed in charge of the committee on arrangements. Besides deciding on the May Carnival, the council adopted the honor constitution.

Resolutions of the City Club, which will be held on the 24th and 25th of this month, were also considered.

Wesley Wright, president of the council, announced that his committee on the honor constitution would probably be taking up at the next meeting, on April 10. Without a dissenting vote the council adopted the revised honor constitution, which was reported by W. Mabelle Bassett, chairman of the committee, which, re-elected, but, no document after it failed to approve the facility. The new document has been shortened a great deal. The situation as adopted by council is as follows:

THE HONOR CONSTITUTION.

Article I.

Section 1. The honor system shall be a standard of conduct in the University primarily upon the student body.

Section 2. The honor system shall become effective in the Department of Arts and Sciences of George Washington University from the date of the adoption of this constitution by the faculty and by a majority of all registered students. The vote of the student body shall be taken through the registrars office.

Article II.

Section 1. There shall be an honor committee composed of the presidents of the Junior, Sophomore and Seniors classes of the College of Engineering, and Teachers College. This committee shall be empowered to add to its number one member from the School of Graduate Studies. The committee shall elect its chairman from its own members.

Article III.

Section 1. It shall be the duty of every student to inform the chairman of the honor committee of any case on which he thinks the principles of the honor system have been violated.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the committee to call before it the accused to investigate the situation.

Section 3. In case of conviction, the honor committee shall recommend the penalty to be imposed to the faculty through the Dean of the College or School in which each offender is registered.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of the honor committee to promote a system of mutual responsibility among the students for honest scholarship work.

Article IV.

Section 1. Violations of the honor system shall consist of receiving in any way or giving in any way, unauthorized aid for any examination or written recitation given in any course of the Department of Arts and Sciences.

Article V.

Section 1. This constitution may be amended by a three-fourths vote of the Student Council, provided that the amendment is approved by the faculty and the student body.

Section 2. The operation of this constitution may be reviewed at any time by action of the Faculty or of the Student Council.

Mulligan—Gosnell Named Leaders

"Charlie" Has Played Guard for the Last Three Years—Gosnell, Veteran Forward of Two Seasons—Both Competent to Command.

Charles S. Mulligan and Clarence W. Gosnell have been selected to lead C. W.'s football and basketball teams next year. At an annual Athletic Banquet held at the Madison Restaurant, on Friday evening, March 16, these men were honored with captaincies, and a gay, festive time was indulged in by the football and basketball players.

Mulligan has been variety guard on the eleven for the past three years and has developed into a capable player. He has all the qualities of a good leader and should make a star.

Gosnell, a veteran forward of two seasons, has been a star since the 1921 season.

For Drawing Quarters for Outdoor Practice.

Due to the fact that time for practicing is limited and will necessarily need to be arranged to accommodate the squad as a whole, training will be held only after the 7 o'clock classes every week-day, except Saturday, near the Leavenworth Memorial, and at the Georgetown Athletic Field every Sunday morning from 8 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., weather permitting.

With a place to train, a place to dress, with lockers and a good coach in "Tom" Friday, it is believed the members of the track squad will do well in the meet in which they are to compete this year.

The society is at work in earnest this spring.

Plans for the annual banquet of Sigma Tau, Honorary Engineering Fraternity, are nearing completion. The date has been set for April 18th, and according to the members, it will be the biggest affair ever given by the fraternity. President Hodgkins and Dean Miller will be present at the banquet, and the following new officers will be installed: President, Robert Branner; vice president, Joseph H. Lepold; recording secretary, Lawrence E. Hyde; corresponding secretary, Daniel B. Lloyd; historian, John E. Kinsman; treasurer, Robert Weidt.

Much enthusiasm is being shown by the members for the annual celebration of the chapter.

SHIP SUBSIDY SUBJECT OF SWARTHMORE DEBATE

The girls debating team will meet Swarthmore at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium tonight on the subject of the most momentous "Ship Subsidy Bill." C. W. will uphold the negative side of the question and the team will consist of Clara Oak, president of the Law Senate, Sarah Haskins and Mrs. Yates. The student body of the University is urged to be present.

MASON'S DANCE SUCCESS.

Last Tuesday night the much proclaimed Masonic Club dance was held at Meridian Mission, 2400 Ruxweth Street. Mayor Davis furnished the jazz music that helped to dispel the care and worries of a material world and lifted everyone into a dancing fairyland. Not a gloomy face appeared in view the sparkling atmosphere of this happy crowd.

TIME FOR PREPARATION OF ORATION EXTENDED

The time when the orations for the Senior Davis speaking contest may be handed in, has been extended to March 26th.

Henry Temin, Kirk Mears, and Wilmer Bartholomew have entered the contest. This is the first time for some years that girls have not entered.

Any additional contestants should see Professor Croissant.

DeWitt C. Croissant, Ph. D., professor of English in George Washington University, addressed the College Women's Club on Monday afternoon, March 12, on the subject, "Our Ancestral Spelling." Professor Croissant was for several years general field agent of the Spelling Bee Contest and is now a member of the board of the contest.

The meeting was under the auspices of Section XIII of the College Women's Club, of which Mrs. Henry Grellick Doyle is leader.

TO DEBATE KU KLUX KLAN

"Resolved, That the Ku Klux Klan is a constructive organization." is the question to be debated by the Columbia Debating Society at the Law School, 1423 N Street, on Friday night, March 23, at 8 p. m.

Two good teams have been selected, and a furious thrash-out of the merits of this much-talked-of organization may be expected.

"PROSPECTS BRIGHT" SAYS COACH MILLER

Twenty Candidates Report to Practice on Dumbarton Club Courts—Play C. U.

"The prospects are bright and encouraging for an unusually successful season," says Coach Miller, who is coaching the basketball team.

These twenty candidates have been practicing on the Dumbarton Club Courts, and are expected to play C. U. on Friday night.

CONTEMPLATE TRIP FOR 'CHARM SCHOOL'

Cancel Arrangements to Give Performance at Garrick During Easter.

PRYOR TAKES LEAD ROLE

Negotiate With Nearby Cities for Bookings—Pennsylvania Trip a Possibility.

The Junior Play will not appear again before a local audience until some later date which is yet undecided.

On authorization of Mr. Bryan Morse a show was negotiated for performances at the Garrick Theatre and all plans were laid for performances on the 24th and 25th of this month.

When the completed plan was laid before Mr. Morse, he vetoed it on the grounds that it was too hazardous on the eve of the Easter season.

However, "The Charm School," having made such a decided success at the first performance, will not be allowed to die, and bookings are being arranged in nearby cities. Henry James, business manager of the play, is busy making arrangements for performances in Alexandria, Annapolis, Frenchtown, and other cities that are being visited and played in an overnight tour.

Funds obtained from these performances will be utilized for a more extensive tour west through Pennsylvania. Plans for this tour are being completed, and conditions appear favorable. The tour would extend over a period of a week or ten days, with the larger of the small cities included in the itinerary.

Two changes have been made in the cast, due to the resignation of William H. Ducker, from the leading male role. G. Wilfred Pryor has been selected to play the part of the principal male role and Osgood Pitts has been placed in the cast position vacated by Pryor.

Although the premier performance proved that the cast is interdependent in their respective roles, rehearsals are continuing for the purpose of perfecting the two changes and to keep the other members from becoming lax in their interpretations of the characters they represent.

Co-Directors Satisfied.

According to William H. Ducker and Leonard Hall, co-directors of the play, the cast has attained a professional excellence generally foreign to amateur performances, and they express the utmost admiration for the individual work of the cast members.

That this work will bring them excellent recognition in the provinces is their expressed conviction.

With the exception of the two cast changes the cast remains intact with Dorothy Barry as the reason for Ducker's loss of the Fairview School and the rest of the cast contributing to the loss.

W. U. C. ANNUAL ELECTION WILL BE HELD APRIL 5

The annual election of officers of the Women's University Club will be held Thursday, April 5th, at the W. U. C. rooms, 2027 O Street.

Only active members; that is, members who have paid the yearly dues of $1.00, are eligible to vote or to hold office.

Dues are payable to the secretary, Anne Hall, 1821 Belmont Road, not later than April 3rd, 1923.

PROMPT TAX PAYMENT NECESSARY FOR TREE

Delivery of the 1922 Cherry Tree will not be guaranteed by the year-book management if both the first and second installments of the tax are not paid by the 10th of March, according to Robert H. McNeil, business manager.

On account of the few signers of the tax this year the funds have at present been cut out so that only a limited number of copies can be ordered.

Those not signers of the tax, desiring a copy of the Cherry Tree, may subscribe for a copy by sending either the business manager, Robert H. McNeil, or the circulation manager, Henry H. James. Orders may also be left in the office. The price is five dollars, payable in advance.

PROF. CROISSANT TALKS ON "ACCURSED SPELLING"

DeWitt C. Croissant, Ph. D., professor of English in George Washington University, addressed the College Women's Club on Monday afternoon, March 12, on the subject, "Our Ancestral Spelling." Professor Croissant was for several years general field agent of the Spelling Bee Contest and is now a member of the board of the contest.

The meeting was under the auspices of Section XIII of the College Women's Club, of which Mrs. Henry Grellick Doyle is leader.

POSTPONE "AXE" DANCE

The "Hatchet" dance, the third to be held this year, has been postponed because of the large number of dances planned by other organizations. It is believed to be more desirable to hold the dance a night when there will be no danger of conflicting with any big school function. Instead of dancing during the Easter holidays, the journalists will celebrate two weeks after.

STAFF STORIES

(AUTHORITATIVE)

The Hatchet offers a good opportunity for the tax-payers to learn of most of the doings of the college, and for the nontax-payers to get the news of the week by the simple process of walking into the Hatchet Office on Thursday evenings and taking from one to a hundred copies free-gratis for nothin'.

The Axe offers some bright youth the opportunity to display his ability as Editor. He does—he shows his unusual qualities along that line by promptly falling in love with one or more ladies, singly or in groups. Why this last year, for instance, B—

Greek Gods and Perennial Graduates grace the Staff of the Hatchet, while the Cherry Tree is blessed with a couple of 'fire-escape lovers', both of whom seem occasionally interested in others, but who have frequent relapses.

Incidentally it may be remarked that while Ronald Marquis graces the Business Staff he still has the reportorial idea of continually smoking a mean pipe. It's so strong now that the thing carries his books home for him and we fear the worst has not yet come.

As for Caroline Peterson, she likes men all draped about her. Have you seen her King Tut trimming? To judge by the appearance of the men on it all the tailors had gone out of business before it came to be.

The way Kitten Hough blossoms forth real frequently in trick hats would lead one to believe that she was connected with the treasury of the Cherry Tree, or else that she was acquiring large money posing for her particular style of architecture—barrel vaults. Further we have it on good authority that Kitten's amorous strain leads her to twining the vines on her front porch into the likeness of hearts.

Maxine Rolle says she may have been on time once-upon-a-time, but that lots of the men of the U know just how late she can be.

While it shouldn't be mentioned lots of the girls on both Staffs would like to know just how the C. T. Ed keeps that permanent wave of his on these damp and rainy days.

Lyle Ohlander, undaunted by the unkind rebuffs of cruel winter, still effervesces soulfully on Spring.

It's been noticed that Marian Barker's supply of frat jewelry has decreased markedly since she has formed other and new interests—it would appear that Foster has use for them in other fields. Why not a blonde, Foster?

A man of weight upon the Axe is Bill Becker but with him around it's hard to decide whether it's the Hatchet office you're in or a booking office.

Of course Sarah French Smith does look real childlike since she bobbed her hair and we believe that one Jimmy James really likes to protect the precious infant.

Charley Jones can't decide whether to be an artist or an eccentric but anyway in preparation for either he lets his hair grow nice and long thereby almost getting in the class of some of our bobbed haired artists. Really the Art Staff looks quite "Greenichvillagish" in that respect.

While the Music Box Revue was in town there was absolutely no work to be gotten out of Jimmy Duggan. We think he really ought to share his little friends with some of the other members of the Staff who are not so fortunate.

The rising young lawyer, Arthur Perry, is always in demand. He has a car, you know. However, he almost threw a monkey-wrench in the organization of the Staff when he called the Horrible E. Sumner Bettelheim, Beetleheim. For some reason the future Editor objected to being called a bug of any kind.

Oh, girls, listen as we narrate about Bunn Tolson. If you're tall and slender you're out of luck but if you're short and er-kind of plump, walk right up.

Dorothy Haddox, you know really was the cause of one Editor losing his peace of mind to say nothing of a goodly amount of sleep.

One must not forget Gladys Phoebus. She says she doesn't need to purchase pocketbooks because she makes it a point to go to all dances where they give them away. Also she likes them most if they have the USNA seal on them but, and all dance committees take the hint, she will take the other kind.

Celeste, the heavenly one, is real busy smiling adds from merchants who fall far enough to advertise in the Hatchet at her suggestion.

Mildred Wilgus (Wilgoose to some) hopes some day to write a story—and we hope to still be around so that we can read it.

Dorothy V. Bartley is another disturber of the Editorial sequence. Her initials would be lots easier to remember, tho, if she'd only reverse them.

There are others—but who wants to hear about them anyway.

The presentation of the Cherry Tree to the Student Body of the University marks the close of the school year. It offers to the student a record of all those activities with which he has been so recently connected and serves as a memorial of a series of events so important at the time of their occurrence but so soon to be forgotten and discarded. The purpose of this section of Reflections is to present some of these echoes of the year now gone.

On the Gridiron the University was represented by a steady, hard-working team. The season viewed from the point of the victories won might, perhaps, have been more successful, but had the team won every contest, a no more laudable spirit of fair play could have been displayed. Of incalculable value to the morale of the team were the victories over Gallaudet and Catholic University, and the earned touchdown in the game with Georgetown. It made every effort of the season worthwhile.

The period of political activity incident to class elections developed simultaneously with the football season. Elections were "run" in much the same manner as of yore. Without backing from one or more of the fraternal organizations of the University, a candidate's chance of election to office was slight, indeed, and once elected to official positions, there ended the successful candidate's interest in all affairs of the class. Elections of this sort produced wonderful self-satisfaction among the elected, and the value of them lies chiefly in the notoriety which the most scheming of the politicians thereby draw to themselves.

The Football Hop was the first All-University event of the season and marked the close of the season on the Gridiron. A special feature of this affair was the presentation of Letters to the twenty-two men who had completed the necessary work against the University's opponents. More than two hundred couples attended and the Hop was a huge success.

At Christmas the usual round of Christmas Dances, open houses and house parties occupied the attentions of the members of the Fraternities. Every fraternity and sorority had closed dances and many of them open teas and receptions to the University as a whole.

The floor season followed football in the interests of the devotees of the side lines. The season commenced brilliantly for both the men's and girls' teams, but neither did so well as the season progressed, though excellent basketball was the rule. The practice of making a dual offering in the form of a game by each of the Varsity teams met with approval, and proved a drawing card for the contests of both teams.

The first of the doleful seasons of the year approached with the advent of January and the entire school became earnest seekers of information against the coming questions of the Profs. Once passed, even tho with varying degrees of success, the feeling of relief experienced was, to most, profound.

During the first week in February the Annual Concert by the G. W. U. Glee Club was given in the Ball Room of the City Club. The Club presented a most interesting and well handled program and followed their efforts with an informal dance.

Junior Week followed. The Mid-Year Convocation was held on February twenty-second at the Continental Memorial Hall. After the Convocation the graduates, faculty and student body were entertained by the Combined Junior Classes at an informal tea and reception at the Raleigh. Many attended and the out-of-town visitors to the exercises were numerous.

On the night of the twenty-third of February the Junior Classes held the third Junior Prom at the City Club. A larger and more varied crowd than ever before attended this function and the combination of excellent music and good fellowship made the evening a memorable one.

The very effective and commendable practice no doubt contributed materially to the success of the Junior Week. In a University scattered as ours so unfortunately is there is too little to bind together the varied interests of each group of students. The drawing together of the best of talents and the support of the entire student body in the completion of this week of celebration marks a very definite step in the drawing together of the interests of the University to promote it in the eyes of the whole college world.

The second edition of the Razzberry appeared during the afternoon of the Junior Reception. This publication, in its efforts to bring to the attention of the student body and the faculty in a humorous light the many things and events which mark our University year, fills a needed place in the publications. It endeavors to show how purposeless and futile so many things done in the University are and strives to eliminate the more undesirable of these occurrences.

The practice of presenting a Junior Play was revived this year, and while the play was not presented during the actual period comprising Junior Week, as was the custom in years past, its presentation marked a distinct step in the forwarding of dramatics in the University. The Play presented was the Charm School and many students found expression therein for talents until then dormant.

Apart from these interests, the matter of sorority pledging took no inconsiderable place in the interests of the co-ed portion of the University. Stringent regulations regarding scholarship requirements for both the organizations bidding and those receiving bids were initiated, but the fact remains that when the matter came to the test on the failure of certain sororities to make the required percentage, these regulations were waived promptly. The questionable desirability of holding off the date of pledging and the effect of the establishment of a definite grade to be attained by sorority members is also worthy of question. The matter of all-term "rushing" no doubt had its effect on the scholastic standing of all sororities, whether they failed to meet the requirement or not. It might also be remarked that this establishment of a definite Pledge Day marks the first time that this regulation has ever been enforced by the authorities of this University.

The series of lectures and social affairs given by both the Engineering and Architectural Clubs mark an advance into the field of University endeavor worthy of note by those not directly connected with either society. The subjects of these lectures are of interest primarily, it is true, to the student of the particular branch of study covered by the lecture, but the broad nature of the addresses given, render them of interest even to the lay student.

El Circulo Espanol carrying out its purpose of furthering the interest in and the study of the Spanish Language and Customs after a year of varying success combined with the Spanish Club of the University of Maryland in a pleasant and successful dance at the Cairo. Clubs which forward the interest in subjects which are a part of the University life of the student are surely to be commended for their efforts.

An exceptionally successful season attended the efforts of the Tennis Team. During the course of their season they decisively defeated teams representing the University of Delaware, Johns-Hopkins University, and the Catholic University. Columbia University, Swarthmore and Lehigh defeated the team but the defeat came only after excellent efforts on the part of the G.W.U. representatives proved of no avail.

The University was represented in the field of Track by a conscientious team. Sickness and accidents to some of the potential starring material seriously handicapped their efforts but a creditable season was carried out in spite of these handicaps.

The supreme effort of the Greeks during the year was the Interfraternity Prom. It was an all Greek affair—every Fraternity holding membership in the Council participating and being represented by most of its membership.

In April the Pan-Hellenic Council held one of the years' most enjoyable Proms. Every Sorority represented in this body participated and to use that expressive phrase—"A good time was had by all". One of the outstanding features of the evening was the appearance of the Petticoat the contemporary of the Razzberry. This edition was the first effort on the part of the girl journalists of the University to express themselves as a group and their effort met with every success.

The last All-University dance was the May Fete Carnival and following the precedent of getting better as the years roll on was by far the finest Carnival yet held. The delightful ingenuity and extravagance displayed in costumes and the quick procession of events would alone have done much toward making the evening a success had not the music been exceptionally joyous.

The efforts of that large body of interested students to carry on the work of the University under, at best, but the partial support of the Faculty is worthy of remark. There is too much to be overcome in the matter of prejudice against George Washington for there to be any internal stress between the Administrative Departments and the student body. Too much cannot be said for those members of the Faculty who actively interest themselves in the forwarding of the University in the public gaze. But for those members of the Faculty who advocate and attempt to carry out a policy of restriction on student activities no word can be said. A policy of advance rather than of remaining stationary or going backward is surely to be preferred. It is hoped that a more progressive and aggressive policy will be officially adopted by the University in the near future and that active assistance will be given to all those among the student body who interest themselves in this work.

BOARD OF MANAGERS OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The Board of Managers of Student Activities consists of the Director of Student Activities, three members of the faculty, two alumni members and two students. The Director of Student Activities is the chairman of the board; the three faculty members are appointed by the president of the university; the two alumni members are appointed by the George Washington University Alumni Association, and the two student representatives are chosen by the Student Council.

The board was created in May, 1920, to take over the functions formerly exercised by the Faculty Committee on Student Activities, and has for its purpose the encouragement, direction, control and accounting for such activities. Its powers embrace supervision over all financial matters pertaining to student activities, including allotment of the student tax.

The Student Council was organized in 1916 first to stimulate interest and participation in student activities and second to act in an advisory and supervisory capacity with regard to these activities. The Council selects the Editors and Managers of the several publications as well as the Managers of the various teams.

The membership of the Council is elected from among the student body of the University in proportion to the enrollment of the several colleges there being three elected from both the Columbian College and the Law School, two from both the Medical and Engineering Schools and one each from the School of Graduate Studies, The School of Pharmacy and the Teacher's College.

THE LAW SCHOOL SENATE

Due to the rapid growth and expansion of the Law School through the masterly efforts of Dean Ferson, need arose for a separate governing body of this department of the University, and to meet this need the Law School Senate was created. It is composed of a member of the faculty, an alumnus and three members from each class. Its past accomplishments merit the prophecy that the benefits of its administration will continue to reflect credit upon the organization.

After a period of marked progress during the seasons just past, the Columbian Debating Society entered upon the present school year with renewed hope, higher aspirations and still greater ambition for the advancement of forensic art.

Attendance upon the meetings this year has been unusually good and the debates well prepared and interesting. The enthusiasm and success manifest in the work is evidenced by the fact that thirteen of the society's members succeeded in capturing places on the University's debating teams. These members have done honor to the society in its effort to promote the art of public speaking and afford training for prospective varsity debaters and embryonic lawyers.

THE MIMES

The Mimes present themselves as a secret organization of George Washington University, the object of which is to further dramatic presentations of the students, and to honor those among the students who, by their work and ability, have earned the right to distinction.

The Mimes presented the Junior Play and the Graduation Play. The casts, as well as the directors and the business executives were taken from among the members of the society.

The Mimes expect to fulfill a long-felt want in the University for a capable and hard-working dramatic organization. With the co-operation of the student body, this expectation will be realized.

THE 1923 DEBATING SEASON

The 1923 Debating Season brought forth the most comprehensive and successful cycle in forensics that the University has experienced. All of the teams displayed unusual ability, upheld the prestige of the University, and admirably reflected the force and vigor of verbal battles which invest our National Capitol.

The first debate was that which was staged under the auspices of the National Literary Society on the question "Resolved, that capital punishment be abolished by all civilized nations". On March 14, Philip E. Barnard and Edward L. Scheufler won first place in the preliminaries for George Washington over the other universities in the District. On March 28 and 29 they plan to defeat the winning teams from neighboring states.

"Resolved, that the several states and the United States establish industrial courts analogous in principle to the Kansas Industrial Court," was upheld by Chas. I. Haycraft, Franklin Knock, and Edw. L. Scheufler, March 16 against University of Pittsburgh, the visitors receiving a 2 to 1 decision. The same night the negative team composed of Oscar Zabel, Jas. E. Stevens and Hubert Steed invaded Penn State, losing by a 3 to 1 decision.

The next debate is March 30, on the Open Forum, Oxford Plan, against Swarthmore College on the question of "Cancellation of Inter-allied war debts, subject to substantial reduction in German reparations". Irving W. Cleveland upholds the affirmative and Robt. N. Anderson, the negative.

On the night of April 6, A. H. Moran, J. Levenson, and Wm. E. Reese uphold the affirmative of the "Cancellation of Debts" question, against the University of North Carolina.

Another twenty-four-hour extemporaneous debate with Ohio Wesleyan is planned for the latter part of April.

M. M. Summers was chosen by the Council to represent George Washington in the Oratorical Contest conducted among the Universities by the National Literary Society.

The Girls' Affirmative Team, advocating the "American Merchant Marine Subsidy", composed of Helen Newman, Denise J. Levy, and Mildred Wilgus, match their ability against Swarthmore, March 23. The Negative Team, composed of Clara Cain, Mrs. Isabelle Yates, and Mrs. Gregory Hankin, are scheduled to meet Goucher College at a later date.

STUPID COUNCIL MEETS

Very Important Matters Discussed

Quorum Needed

Will Hold Another Meeting Soon

Tuesday evening, the Stupid Council of George Washington University met in Lisner Hall to transact some business. The most important business that was transacted was the appointing of a committee by the president to search for the long lost constitution. It is expected that the committee will be able to make a report at the next meeting, if not then, perhaps at the one following.

The Chairman of the Committee on souvenirs then made his report which was followed by long discussion on the part of two members as to the yielding of the floor. The president stated that he did not have the power to yield the floor to either one of the contesting members unless a petition of  $\frac{3}{4}$ 's of the members of the council so desired that such an arrangement of the disputed matter be made. It was so complicated that it was proposed to table the motion until the next meeting, when some of the members would have time to look up and see what some of the authorities said should be done under such conditions.

At this point it was suggested by somebody that it might be a good stunt to read the minutes of the previous meeting. This was done by the secretary and promptly approved by the Council. With this off their minds the important session continued.

Here a vote was called for by the chair. After the vote had been taken and announced, the losers naturally and promptly challenged the result. Fraud was charged, but not allowed. Then the subject of the use and misuse of proxies was discussed pro and con. After every one had gotten tired of discussing this momentous question, some member moved that the council adjourn. This motion was promptly carried, no one charging fraud or misuse of the proxy.

The Council will hold its next meeting, Tuesday, Feb. 34.

Pohl Named Champion

Captures Tiddle-de-winks Tournament After Hard Fight

Ed. Pohl, better known to his admirers and friends as Fool Pohl, came from behind in today's tiddle-de-winks games and captured the championship, after it appeared that he was out of the running.

Up to the last inning, Seibold had been leading only to be passed as the whistle sounded ending the last period. Pohl was very modest in his victory, stating that luck and hard work at training were the things that made one a champion.

After winning this championship, I think I will enter more arduous fields, I intend to enter the jumping jacks tournament next week, was the only plans for the future that the tiddle-de-winks champion would give out.

*****

Laugh to Pass

Following out the advice of Douglas Fairbanks in his text, "Laugh and Live" Miss Parton, member of Prof. Croissant's English class, is using this advice in order to get better grades.

Noted Artist Composes Song

Piece Becomes Favor Overnight With Social Set

That a man can't succeed in more than one branch of endeavor has been disproved by the recent announcement that John Russell Mason, famous as the composer of the Anthem, "Keep Quiet" has published a jazz hit.

The piece that has become so popular among the social set is called, "The Library Blues."

When John Russell Mason was asked whether it was difficult to write music of such different nature, he replied that both had the same theme running throughout, that of 'keep quiet or get out'. Of course he added, the time is main difference between the two songs.

*****

Notice

Dick McPherson and Grace Harris are not at all bashful.

*****

Portrait Fund Nears Completion

The work on the Prof. Morse portrait is progressing nicely, according to Dr. Hearst's statement.

Prof. Morse is still posing regularly and is thoroughly enjoying his part. Girls read to him to relieve the strain of posing. Works of the great authors, like Damon Runyon, Ring Lardner and James J. Corbett, are read; and sometimes current features.

The committee is busy selling tickets for the pictures. The tickets sell for $1.00, $2.00 and 49,000,000 marks.

The committee hopes to have the pictures ready for distribution before Christmas.

THE UGLY MONSTER

Agitation is rife throughout the whole University over the prevalence of the examination evil. This agitation is not, as some suppose, merely founded on the airy base of the dreams of some person or group. It is fact. The number of exam addicts in the University at the present time is astounding. The prevalence of examinations during the past year is appalling.

You may ask what this has to do with college men and women. You should have sense enough to know. What is the duty of the college man but to pass up all examinations. Nothing else. You may aid in the extermination of this terrible vice if you are willing to. Surely you must be willing, for as educated Americans you can not help but know the awful suffering that comes to those who take and succumb to the terrible witchery of the examinations.

Such conditions as they exist and are interpreted to you through the University Hatchet. Keep your eyes open, and whenever you see the malicious head of the malevolent monster examination fury lift its hoary head stamp it down. Keep the miserable and soul-racking results of examination addiction before those around you that they will not be tempted by creatures who make that tempting their sole aim and occupation. Do not think anyone is beyond the temptation of taking "just one little exam." Your nearest and dearest friend may succumb next. Protect that friend.

The Spy

THE PEPSODENT

"THE Gold Diggers" a farce of G. W. Co-ed life, playing at the Pepsodent this week. Pi Phi does excellent work in the title role. Recommended and approved.

G. W. PLAYERS

"Moonshines, where but at G. W." is the current attraction at the Players this week. Fights and jealousy is the main theme of a rather dull and uninteresting plot. The most thrilling scene of the lifeless performance is the medical mixer act. However this is not enough to rescue the rest of the play from being classed as a failure. Not approved.

LISNER HALL

If you like action and "plenty" of melodrama don't fail to attend Lisner Hall this week as the Free Lance Company is staging the highly thrilling and melodramatic musical play, "THE G. W. K. K. K." The words were written jointly by Fred Wright and Waldo Girdner. The music was composed by the well-known Washington Post. For an exciting evening, it is recommended and approved.

THE CAMPUS VARIETY

Dick McPherson and Grace Harris in a clever one-act play "YaHoo-Hoo" is attracting considerable attention as the headliner of the excellent variety bill this week. Co-headlining with the McPherson-Harris troupe is to be found the Gladys Fuller and Charles Koonen company in a scintillating dancing act, Orange Blossoms. Mary Schaaff and Doc Hill, give an interesting dialogue entitled "The Third Degree". Interesting and realistically done. Approved.

Dear Stupe:—Can you give us the recipe that was used in making the candy that is sold on the campus. Sweetie.

Dear Sweetie:—You are indeed kind to call it candy. But after prolonged research we have discovered that it is composed of varnish, axle grease, concrete, granite, steel fibers, and lead acetate. Stupe.

*****

Dear Steven:—I think it is outrageous the way Dick McPherson and Grace Harris behave on the campus. Can't something be done to stop it. Jealous.

Dear Jealous:—Why stop it. Think how much amusement they furnish onlookers. What would the loafers do without this act every afternoon. If you are jealous why don't you find a Greek god and out noise them. Go to it, we are always craving amusement. Steven.

*****

Dear Stupid Steven:—I am a freshman in the Medical school. After consulting some of the sympathetic gin one night after I had retired, I saw pink katydid. Can you give me an explanation.

Yours truly, Greenie.

Dear Greenie:—The explanation is that they were probably just ordinary katydids with pink knickers on. Steve.

P. S.—That's the katydids knickers, so to speak. Steve.

*****

Dear Steve:—Why has jazz music been a benefit.

Dancing fool.

Dear Dancing Fool:—Jazz has been a benefit to a lot of people, because if it wasn't for it, they would be arrested. Steve.

*****

Dear Mr. Stephan:—What's the shortest conversation? Brown eyes.

Dear Brown eyes: The shortest conversation on record is:

No!

Why?

Because!

Please? Steve.

P. S.—Thanks for the Mr.

I'm getting a lot out of this course; in fact I'm out of it most of the time, was the way a prominent leader of campus activities expressed his opinion of a certain subject.

The initials of a friend

You will find these letters on many tools by which electricity works. They are on great generators used by electric light and power companies; and on lamps that light millions of homes.

They are on big motors that pull railway trains; and on tiny motors that make hard housework easy.

By such tools electricity dispels the dark and lifts heavy burdens from human shoulders. Hence the letters G-E are more than a trademark. They are an emblem of service—the initials of a friend.
